Welcome Resolution

S. R. No. 11—By Senator Brooks: Extending welcome to James M. Altman and students of Ross Sterling High School of Houston.

In Memory of The Honorable Temple Houston Morrow

Senator Hardeman offered the following resolution:

(Senate Resolution 9)

Whereas, A distinguished son of Texas, Honorable Temple Houston Morrow, proud scion of one of the truly great lines in our history, departed this life at his home in Lubbock on August 12, 1966; and

Whereas, This grandson of General Sam Houston was born at Round Rock, Texas, August 13, 1878, to Nancy Elizabeth Houston Morrow, oldest child of General and Mrs. Margaret Lea Houston, and Captain J. C. S. Morrow. He was named for his uncle, Temple Houston, the youngest son of the General and Mrs. Houston, a former member of the Senate of Texas, famed pioneer lawyer in the Texas Panhandle and Oklahoma Territory and great orator who spoke for the people of Texas at the dedication of our Capitol, May, 1888; and

Whereas, Following his youth spent in Georgetown, Mr. Morrow moved to Quanah, Texas, in 1896, where he resided until 1906, when he moved to Waco to become general manager of the large lumber concern of William Cameron & Company. In 1914, Mr. Morrow moved to Beaumont, where he was connected with a building firm. Three years later, he went to Dallas to become vice-president and general manager of A. G. McAdams Lumber Company. After five years in this capacity, he organized the T. H. Morrow Lumber Company in Dallas and operated it until 1930. He then became president of Traders and General Insurance Company of Dallas, which he and associates had founded in 1927. Mr. Morrow served in this capacity until 1942; and

Whereas, Mr. Morrow was an outstanding member of the Knights of Pythias and of the Masonic Lodge. He was a member of the First Methodist Church in Lubbock. His long life was filled with honors bestowed by his compatriots and brethren, including membership in the Order of the Knights of San Jacinto, founded by his famous grandfather, and the coveted award of the 33rd Degree by the Masonic Fraternity; and

Whereas, This "Man of Excellence" proved himself worthy of his great Texas heritage and a worthy successor to his forebearer who laid the foundation stone of the Lone Star State. Mr. Morrow's courage—physical and moral—was never in doubt. He never failed to oppose that which he thought wrong and he never hesitated to support the right, regardless of popular whim. By his very life and his innumerable contributions to the benefit of his fellow man, he gave joy to his Creator; and

Whereas, It is the desire of the Senate of Texas to recognize the achievements and contributions for good of this illustrious son of Texas and to express its sympathy to the surviving family on his passing; now therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Texas does hereby recognize the many achievements of Mr. Temple Houston Morrow, and his contributions to his friends, neighbors and fellow man, and expresses its sympathy to the surviving members of the family; and be it further

Resolved, That this Resolution be spread upon the Journal of the Senate and that copies thereof be forwarded to the surviving members of the family of Mr. Morrow, under the Seal of the Senate, by the Secretary of the Senate and that when the Senate adjourns today, it do so in memory of Mr. Temple Houston Morrow.

HARDEMAN
BLANCHARD

Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith: Aikin, Bates, Bernal, Berry, Brooks, Christie, Cole, Connally, Creighton, Grover, Hall, Harrington, Hazlewood, Herring, Hightower, Jordan, Kennard, Mauzy, Moore, Parkhouse, Patman, Ratliff, Reagan, Schwartz, Strong, Wade, Watson, Wilson, Word.

The resolution was read.

On motion of Senator Parkhouse and by unanimous consent the names of the Lieutenant Governor and Senators were added to the resolution as signers thereof.

The resolution was then adopted by a rising vote of the Senate.

In Memory of
The Honorable A. Garland Adair

Senator Hardeman offered the following resolution:

(Senate Resolution 10)

Whereas, On December 14, 1966, the people of Texas suffered a great loss in the death of Honorable A. Garland Adair, 77, scholar, newspaperman, and highly respected leader in preserving the heritage of Texas history; and

Whereas, He was born in Queen City, Cass County, Texas, the son of a Methodist minister, J. B. Adair, and his wife, Mattie Palmer Adair, whose principles of dedicated service to others he was to hold as his own throughout his life; and

Whereas, The active role he took in serving his State and country was marked by his service in World War I and his contributions to the profession of journalism, which he served with distinction as both editor and publisher for many years; and

Whereas, The greater portion of his life was dedicated with unselfishness and steadfast purpose to the cause of preserving and enriching the traditions and spirit of Texas history, to which he lent both vision and uncomplaining sacrifice, and to offering his personal contributions to the civic, fraternal, patriotic, political and religious life of his State wherever they were needed; and

Whereas, Mr. Adair was Chairman of the American Legion Texas Centennial Committee, heading its sponsorship of the Texas Memorial Museum and authoring the legislation creating the museum, and serving as its curator for twenty years; and

Whereas, He was the creator of the Texas Centennial silver fifty-cent piece coined by the National Government for the 1936 Centennial celebration of Texas Independence, and the sale of such coins netted the Texas Memorial Museum approximately $91,000.00; and

Whereas, He served as Executive Director of the Texas Heritage Foundation, leading in efforts to locate and return to Texas valuable records from Texas history and to educate the people of the State in their great heritage; and

Whereas, He has been recognized by membership in the Sons of the Republic of Texas, the Knights of San Jacinto, the Texas State Historical Association, the Texas Academy of Science, the Texas Press Association and other organizations for his public achievements and personal imagination and honor; and

Whereas, The Senate of Texas desires to pay tribute to this eminent Texan and exemplary gentleman; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the 60th Legislature, That the Texas Legislature honors the memory of A. Garland Adair for his outstanding contributions to the preservation of Texas history and his devoted public service; and be it further

Resolved, That this Resolution be adopted in token of the great debt of gratitude which the people of Texas owe to A. Garland Adair; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this Resolution be prepared for his widow, Mrs. Gladys Adair of Austin; his two daughters, Mrs. Robert J. McLean of Austin and Mrs. Reese Mathieu of Houston; and his son, J. Garland Adair of Waco; and that when the Senate adjourns today, it do so in memory of A. Garland Adair.

Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith; Alkin, Bates, Bernal, Berry, Blanchard, Brooks, Christie, Cole, Connally, Creighton, Grover, Hall, Harrington, Hazlewood, Herring, Hightower, Jordan, Kennard, Mauzy, Moore, Parkhouse, Patman, Ratliff, Reagan, Schwartz, Strong, Wade, Watson, Wilson, Word.

The resolution was read.

On motion of Senator Herring and by unanimous consent the names of the Lieutenant Governor and Senators were added to the resolution as signers thereof.

The resolution was then adopted by a rising vote of the Senate.

In Memory of John H. Winters

Senator Brooks offered the following resolution:

(Senate Concurrent Resolution 2)

Whereas, John H. Winters, who had been the State Welfare Director for the past 23 years, died in Austin on December 1, 1966, at the age of 64; and

Whereas, This dedicated public servant combined compassion for the unfortunate with a high regard for the importance of his stewardship of State funds, and was responsible for a program that gave help to millions of needy Texans; and

Whereas, His main interests were his job and his work in the Baptist Church, of which he was a member; and

Whereas, This warm and kindly man often chuckled about the many times he received long distance telephone calls from welfare recipients who wanted to talk to the man at the top—the man whose name was seen on thousands of letters as millions of welfare applications were processed; and

Whereas, He took pride in running a fair and efficient program that had integrity, where no one was on the welfare rolls who shouldn't have been; and

Whereas, He had the balance required to satisfy both the admirers and detractors of public welfare programs and was a respected authority in his field; and

Whereas, Though patrician in manner, he had the depth of understanding and kindness of heart which made him an outstanding humanitarian, respected by all who knew him, whether in government circles or through personal friendships; and

Whereas, His death terminated a career which gave Texas an outstanding administrator, known and recognized for his ability nationwide; and

Whereas, He is survived by his wife, his mother, and one son, J. S. Winters of Austin, as well as two brothers and a sister, and

Whereas, The 60th Legislature wishes to pay tribute to this outstanding public servant and welfare authority, whose devotion to his duties as director of the Texas Department of Public Welfare brought great benefits to the State of Texas; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of Texas, the House of Representatives concurring, That the 60th Legislature extend deep sympathy to the family of this outstanding man, whose wisdom and love of humanity advanced the Texas Welfare Program to a position of respect at home and among our sister states; and, be it further

Resolved, That copies of this Resolution be prepared for his wife and son, and that when the two houses of the Legislature adjourn this day, that they do so in memory of John H. Winters.
